Clinical Negligence

Emma is instructed in a broad range of clinical negligence work by claimants and defendants. She regularly advises on both liability and quantum, including high-value claims involving complex future loss issues and Fatal Accident Act claims. She has particular experience in claims relating to delayed cancer diagnosis, vascular problems, orthopaedic surgery, diabetes and gastroenterology, and anorexia nervosa. She routinely advises clients in civil claims following inquests.

Selected Cases

- Led by John Whitting KC in a case resulting in a settlement of just under £20 million for a brain damaged child.
- Secured a settlement against 5 separate Defendants for a man who received inadequate nursing, GP, and surgical treatment for an ulcer in his diabetic foot, resulting in an above-knee amputation.
- Acted for the widow of a man who bled to death at home after receiving inadequate medical treatment and secured a substantial Fatal Accidents Act settlement following RTM.
- Represented the parents of a baby who died shortly after death and secured an early settlement following an inquest
- Represented several NHS Trust Employees following serious allegations made against them by a minor's parents following a sonogram. During a 6 day hearing the Court gave permission for a range of medical experts to assist in determining the likely cause of minor's fractures, and ultimately found that no Trust employee had caused or contributed to the injuries sustained. Click here for further details.
- Led by Philip Havers KC in a complex clinical negligence claim concerning inadequate gastroenterology treatment resulting in severe opiate addiction. A substantial settlement was reached following mediation.

Inquests

Emma is regularly instructed on behalf of NHS Trusts, individual doctors and bereaved families in inquests. She has appeared in numerous contentious Article 2 inquests arising from deaths in custody, and inquests involving mental health settings, community care and domestic violence.

She was previously instructed to assist the Coroner's Legal Team in the Inquests into the Birmingham Pub Bombings (1974). For more information click here.

Emma is committed to pro bono representation and has been instructed on a pro bono basis for the Centre For Women's Justice, AvMA and Advocate on behalf of bereaved families and individual doctors. She is regularly involved in personal injury, clinical negligence and human rights claims arising out of inquests.

- Undercover Policing Inquiry: Instructed for a key Core Participant and led by Peter Skelton KC in the civil litigation arising out of that Inquiry.
- Emma has undertaken significant disclosure and legal professional privilege reviews in relation to other investigations.

Human Rights

Emma is developing a varied practice in public law and human rights. She is currently instructed in a number of Human Rights Act civil actions on behalf of the families of victims of fatal domestic violence. Emma was Vice-Chair of the Human Rights Lawyers Association from 2017 – 2020.

Before coming to the bar, Emma spent two years at the AIRE Centre, a NGO where she advised and represented individuals in matters of EU and ECHR law. This included establishing a monthly legal clinic for Roma migrants in Luton and representing individuals before the First-tier Tribunal (Social Entitlement Chamber). Emma also spent two years as a Parliamentary Aide to Lord Lester of Herne Hill QC, in particular assisting his work as a member of the Joint Committee on Human Rights, and in human rights analysis of draft legislation.

Emma gained further human rights experience as a legal trainee at the European Court of Human Rights, Strasbourg (UK Division), as an intern on the case involving Radovan Karadzic at the International Criminal Tribunal for the Former Yugoslavia in the Hague and working for the Innocence Project while studying at Washington and Lee University, Virginia.

Environmental Law

Emma is looking to develop her practice in environmental law, and has experience advising on matters involving protected habitats and fishing rights.

Recently, Emma has been instructed in the ground breaking climate change case of Duarte Agostinho & 5 Others v Portugal & 32 Others, led by Tim Otty KC and acted for several victims of the Beirut Port Explosion. She and Darragh Coffey successfully represented the Yorkshire Wildlife Trust, instructed by the Environmental Law Foundation, at a 12 day Planning Inquiry concerning Askham Bog in York.

She was jointly nominated for Advocate's Young Pro Bono Barrister of the Year Award 2020 for her role in saving Askham Bog.
