

Thomas Hayes

Call: 2020

Thomas joined chambers as a pupil in October 2021 and is building his experience in all of chambers' practice areas.

Thomas was a practising surgeon before turning to a career in law and, in addition to a full time medical practice, led a safe surgery initiative in the Democratic Republic of Congo and has acted as an expedition medic for a field study undertaken in the Peruvian Amazon. Before joining chambers, he volunteered at the Free Representation Unit (FRU).

Education

- BPP Law School, (Commendation) GDL, (2018)
- University of Liverpool, (Hons) Medicine and Surgery – MBChB, (2012)
- King's College London, (First) Global Health and Medical Science (2011)

Publications

- Contributor to the UK Human Rights Blog